

Earl Ray's Brother ^{bulletin} Bailed Out In Shooting

Savannah, Ga. — (AP) — Jerry Ray, whose brother was imprisoned for life for the slaying of Dr. Martin Luther King Jr., was released from jail in $5,000 bond yesterday after he was charged with aggravated assault in the shooting of a white teen-ager.

Ray, 35, is charged in the shooting of Stephen Don Black, 17, of Athens, Ala., at the headquarters of the white supremacist National States Rights party here. Black, who suffered a chest wound, was reported in fair condition at a hospital.

Jerry Ray has been working in Georgia as "security guard and campaign manager" for J. B. Stoner, an avowed white racist seeking the Democratic gubernatorial nomination.
